Rubber Band Wear

Rubber bands are to be worn 24-hours per day, except when brushing your teeth, unless stated otherwise by the orthodontist

Failure to wear your rubber bands, as instructed, will result in treatment running longer than expected.

It may also affect the finished orthodontic treatment result.

Change your rubber bands once a day with new rubber bands. They lose their stretch.

If you break or lose a rubber band, replace immediately.

Always carry spare Rubber bands in your pocket.

Remember to replace your supply of rubber bands at every appointment.
